Medical.

THE UNFORTUNATE.

W REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

17 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, [illegible]. Established in 1851, the treatment of Sexual and [illegible]al Diseases, such as Gonor[rhea], Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in [all i]ts forms, Seminal Weakness, [Imp]otency, etc. Skin Diseases (of [long] standing) and Ulcerated Leg[s succ]essfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

[Ho]w many thousands of persons, both male and fe[male], are there who are suffering out a miserable exist[ence] from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus [imbi]bed into the system! Look at their pallid, emacia[ted] and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitu[tions], disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage [and] enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they [linger] until death closes the scene. Let parents, [guardians and] friends, attend to those who are suffering with [any of] these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that [they] are taken care of and cured before it is too late. Send [them immedia]tely to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has [made th]is his especial study for years, and who [is certain] to cure the most inveterate cases without mer[cury] or any injurious drugs. It is important to those [thus affl]icted, or to those who are interested in the [welf]are of their friends, to be careful of the many pre[tenders] who infest all cities, publishing their skill [in cu]ring all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the [public by] using the name of eminent physicians from [Euro]pe and other places. Be therefore careful and make [inquiry], or you may fall into the hands of those [illegible].

Seminal Weakness.

[Se]minal [weakness], the [conseq]uence of self-abuse. This [solitary], or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced [by th]e youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, [produ]cing, with unerring certainty, the following train [of mo]rbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific mea[sures]: sallow countenance, dark spots under [the e]yes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like [the r]ustling of leaves, rattling of chariots, uneasiness [abou]t the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, [blun]ted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in ap[proa]ching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, [a des]ire to shun society, loss of memory, hectic [flush]es, pimples and various eruptions about the face, [furr]ed tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night [swea]ts, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be [de]sired, they should apply immediately, either in person [or b]y letter, and have a cure effected by his new and sci[entifi]c mode of treating this disease, which never fails of [effect]ing a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One [Thous]and Dollars to any [one] who will prove satisfacto[rily] to him that he was cured of this complaint by either [illegible].

[DO]CTOR GIBBON [illegible], and will give to each [patie]nt a written [guarantee], binding himself to effect a [radic]al and permanent cure, or make no charge.

[Pers]ons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by [addr]essing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symp[toms], length of time the [disease] has continued, and have [medicine prom]ptly forwarded, free from damage and [curiosi]ty, to any part of the country, with full and plain [direc]tions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered let[ter o]r through Wells, Fargo & Co.

[Add]ress DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, [near Com]mercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252. [Consu]ltation FREE.

[Prevention is] Better than Cure.

[illegible] Patent French Safe, a sure Pre[ventive] against [illegible] and [illegible], sent by mail [illegible] DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney [street], San F[rancisco], Post Office Box 252. [illegible] will please inform DR. GIBBON [illegible] in the Daily O[regonian]. jy31d&wtf

WATER WHEELS.

POWER [illegible] EQUAL

[illegible] TO THE [Greatest] Wheel in Existence.

[Ame]rican Double Turbine Water Wheel

[IS N]OW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON [Wo]rks, in the city of Portland, and orders for the [same] can be filled immediately. We have a small supply [of] all sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diam[eter]. That we may know the proper sized wheel you re[quire], measure your water in the following way: Take [the wi]dth of the stream, the average depth, and the dis[tance] it flows in a minute.

[As] the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction, [in] the construction of the wheel and its performance, [we s]end it to the better judgment of all minds capable [of ap]preciating the highest development of mechanical [constr]uction. Therefore it has conquered the most vio[lent] opposition.

[This] wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It [illegible] and can be easily packed into the mountains. [Wheels] weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from [illegible] horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They [are the] cheapest wheel to set up, known, as they are [warrant]ed to produce the greatest power possible from [the wa]ter used.

[The] prices of these wheels have now been reduced to [the abi]lity of all. Come and see them or send for a cir[cular].

Revolution in Spain—1,000 Insurgents Killed and Wounded.

[Madrid Correspondence (June 25th) of the New York Herald.]

On the 22d inst. a regiment of foot and a regiment of horse artillery rose in revolt in their barracks in the San Gil quarter. The movement had been planned among the men and the non-commissioned officers without the cognizance of any of the superior officers as far as is yet ascertained. The mutineers rushed in the first place to the officer's quarters in order to prevail on them to join in the revolt, but unsuccessfully. Thereupon fifteen were at once shot down, and the men proceeded to fortify the barracks against attack. They possessed themselves of 20 guns, deposited in an arsenal attached to the barracks, and planted them in the most advantageous positions for defense.

The alarm soon spread throughout Madrid, and a large body of troops collected from other barracks in the city and commanded by generals of all shades of political opinion, were rapidly set in motion for the scene of the disturbances. Upon reaching the San Gil quarter it was found that the insurgents had been joined by a large body of peasantry, who were erecting barricades in the surrounding streets, having been supplied with arms and guns by the revolted soldiery. To dislodge them the royal troops were compelled to bring up artillery and commence a regular cannonade, which lasted some three or four hours. The insurgents replied vigorously, and it was only after a most determined contest that the barricades were carried, at the point of the bayonet, at about 5 o'clock. The fighting was, however, continued during the rest of the evening and into the night, by a body of insurgents posted in a block of houses, the Portigo de San Martin, who maintained a fire upon the troops from the windows. Finally, however, early on the morning of the 22d, order was completely restored, and the Government remained wholly masters of the field.

The struggle was of the most desperate and sanguinary character. More than 1,000 insurgents are supposed to have been killed or wounded.

The loss of the royal troops is not yet stated, but it must have been considerable. Two generals were wounded and have since died, and Gen. Narvaez, the Moderado chieftain, who was most active in supporting the efforts of his political rival, Marshal O'Donnell, to restore order, was slightly wounded.

The insurgents raised shouts of "Viva Prim," "Viva la republica."

Gen. Prim is strongly believed to have been one, if not the chief of the conspirators by whom the present attempt was organized, a belief which derives strong ground from the fact that Gen. Pierrad, a companion of Prim in his late revolt, was among the insurgents.

Immediately after the outbreak had been quelled the province of New Castile was proclaimed in a state of siege, and the civil governor of Madrid, the Duke of Sesto, resigned his authority into the hands of the military governor, Capt. Gen. Isidoro de Hoyos.

Nearly 2,000 arrests have been made of the insurgents and their abettors in Madrid, and 137 soldiers and sergeants have already been tried by court-martial and shot. A proclamation has been issued ordering the surrender to the authorities of arms which the owners have not a special license to keep, and requesting the inhabitants to keep their houses lighted up all night. All offences against the public peace will be summarily dealt with according to martial law. Hardly, however, had comparative quiet been restored before we got the news of a revolt the day before yesterday (June 23) of the garrison of Gerona, in Catalonia, with the exception of their officers. The whole body of men numbering about 600, marched out of town towards the frontier, soon afterwards followed in pursuit by a body of royal troops remaining faithful to the government who were brought up from a neighboring town. Gen. [illegible] and Marshal Concha were immediately dispatched to take the command of the northern provinces, where disaffection is very rife.

Spanish Democracy is strongest in the north, particularly at Barcelona. Ugly rumors have already been afloat relative to the disposition of the latter town, and it is considered by no means improbable that the Madrid and Gerona risings may be reproduced at several points in Catalonia and Biscay.

Gen. Prim, who was last heard of in the south of France, has lately disappeared, and little doubt is entertained but that he is now in some part of Catalonia or Biscay organizing a fresh and more general rising against the government than he managed to effect upon his last attempt.

The incomes returned by some of the residents of Cambridge, Mass., for 1865, are as follows: Prof. Agassiz, $1,894; Prof. F. J. Child, $2,802; Richard H. Dana, $2,442; James Russell Lowell, $2,304; Rev. Andrew P. Peabody, $2,596; Prof. Henry W. Longfellow, $12,867; Theophilus Parsons, $4,158; Prof. E. A. Sophocles, $2,256; Jared Sparks, (deceased) $3,835.

Frederick William Nicholas Charles, Crown Prince of Prussia, who commanded the Prussian forces at the battle of Skalitz, is the eldest son of the present King, and was born October 18, 1831. He was married at London January 25, 1858, to the Princess Royal, Victoria Adelaide Mary Louise, eldest daughter of Queen Victoria. He holds the rank of Lieutenant-General in the army, and commands the Second Corps.

THE ITALIAN GENERALS.—The principal Italian Generals are thus described: General La Marmora is a tall man, with a long face and a prodigious nose. He has a great passion for his profession, and is an inflexible disciplinarian. General Cialdini is a good-looking man, below the average hight, with a bushy mustache and imperial. He has keen, sparkling eyes. This officer is very popular in Italy, and the soldiers have great confidence in him. General Durando is a fine old man, with a grand military aspect, and is greatly esteemed throughout the continent. General Della Rocca, the King's principal Aid-de-Camp and intimate friend, is about fifty years old. His hair and mustache are quite white, and his general appearance is that of a dignified, aristocratic veteran.

EXPORTS INCREASING.—The New York World calls attention to the fact that exports from that port are again increasing. Those for the last week were valued at $4,077,000. The principal items were 911,000 bushels corn, being nearly equal to the entire receipts; 25,000 barrels flour; about 3,500 hogsheads tobacco; besides about 1,200 other packages and 2,500,000 pounds manufactured tobacco, about 600,000 gallons of petroleum, and, what is a novelty at this time, about 2,000 bales of domestic cotton goods. The latter go mostly to China. This increase in the exports is due mostly to the decline of prices in the face of the steady gold market.

INDIAN TROUBLES ON THE PLAINS.—A dispatch dated St. Joseph, July 19th, says: Persons from the plains represent the Indians massing themselves for war, and old ranchmen inform us that as the corn is ripe the hatchet will be unburied, and that nearly every tribe on the plains will start on the war-path, involving the border in wide spread ruin. Thanks to the criminal stupidity of the Commissioners at Fort Laramie, the Indians are well armed, and will prove no contemptuous foe. The Government cannot act too soon in despatching troops to the frontier for the protection of life and property.

Letter from Idaho.

WARREN'S DIGGINGS, Aug. 5, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I seldom have time to write, but you will doubtless be glad to learn something of interest stirring in this camp. I came here about two weeks since to assist in the survey of the quartz leads here which have been recently discovered. I am surprised at their extent and richness, and more so that they should have so long remained hidden from the knowledge of the miners here. Or I might say that the miners who knew of their existence should not have known their value. But I learn that gold quartz has been principally prospected for, and the silver tests not applied. Hence the value of the quartz discovered has been unknown. But recently, since the Florence silver quartz discoveries, the silver tests have been tried here, and everybody is astonished at the extent and richness of the quartz here.

Within the last six weeks not less than twenty-five distinct leads have been found to contain paying silver ore. Some of them are very rich in both gold and silver. I have not time to fully describe them now, but will do so in a future letter, as I have both seen and tested them. Among the principal leads are the Washington, Western, Keystone, Keenan, Ric Jacot, Indus, Chieftain, W. P. Hunt, Mountaineer, Tallman, Hawk-Eye, Idaho, Stevenburg, Ward, Harpster and Bemis, Pride of Idaho, Young America, Francisco Martina, and several others which I have not visited. The rock from all the leads is said to contain silver, and some of them I know are very rich in both gold and silver. Several Boise and Owyhee men have recently been here, and pronounce the discoveries here greater and better than ever made there in the same length of time. This whole camp is one [illegible] of [illegible] upon the subject of quartz, and prospectors are out in every direction perforating the hills, discovering and tracing mineral veins. Float rock of great richness is found in the ravines and on the hill sides. The character of the country is excellent for prospecting, it being so easily traveled on foot or on horseback.

Lewiston has quite a number of men now here making [locations] and [illegible]. In this [illegible] is Richard Henly, Esq., the assayer of that place. He seems surprised to find so much ore here, and so rich. A large number of Florence men have come here to make locations and secure interests. From what I learn from the Recorder of this District (Washington District) over one [hundred] [illegible] claims have been [recor]ded here on the different leads during the last four weeks, and the rush seems to increase for locations, and discoveries of new and valuable leads are daily occurring. Some of the ore will soon reach Portland for assay, if it has not already arrived there. South Boise and Owyhee cannot long boast of their advantages over us in point of quartz leads, and experts and capitalists will soon find the truth if they will visit us and see what we have.

Placer mining, both here, and at Florence, has been good this season, for a few who had an abundance of water. Idaho company mining interests are looking up. In due time I will be more full and explicit. LELAND.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 17, 1866.

New Plan for Punishing Hostile Indians.

In the present state of affairs in Eastern Oregon and portions of Idaho, almost any means that could be suggested to afford the people relief from the continual annoyances of a predatory Indian warfare, would be worthy of a trial. If it is considered barbarous and inhuman to offer rewards for scalps as the best way of getting rid of savages who, themselves "lift the hair" of every white person they meet, probably it will not seem so monstrous a proceeding to employ friendly Indians to exterminate the hostile tribes. Some time ago, the chiefs of the Sioux Indians, in a council with officers of the Government at Fort Sully, proposed to organise a part of their men into companies to prevent the depredations of other tribes in Dacotah Territory. These Indian scouts were to be equipped by the United States, except as to their horses, which they were to furnish themselves. The chiefs pledged their faith that if the Government would authorise the organization, they would effectually prevent further Indian disturbances in that part of the country. It is understood that the Government acceded to the proposition, and that Indian scouts are now employed on the upper Missouri in a duty which has hitherto been performed far less efficiently, and at a much greater expense by troops in the regular military service of the United States.

The same plan is to be tried on the Pacific coast. The Government has authorized the employment of two hundred friendly Indians in this service in this part of the country. They can easily be obtained at the Reservations east of the mountains, and can no where be more profitably employed than in Eastern and Southeastern Oregon. The order to engage them for this duty is probably an experiment, which, if successful, and necessity calls for it, will be followed by the employment of a still larger number.

The efforts of the military to prevent Indian depredations and punish offenders have so far been very unsuccessful. The marauding bands of Indians have a perfect knowledge of the country; they keep informed as to the situation of the troops and always appear where least expected, to plunder and to kill. They can be fought to advantage only by the adoption of their own tactics, and hence the experiment of employing other Indians, with a view of turning their own system of warfare against the plunderers, is worthy of trial.

Who are Responsible?

The Copperhead papers never cease to descant on the subject of taxes. It is an endless theme. The most terrible maledictions are uttered daily against those who are charged with having imposed this tyranny of taxation upon the country. Let us pass over the assertion that the party which has prevented the division of the Union is responsible for the great debt that the nation is now being taxed to pay; let us omit the fact that the Democratic party or those who were associated with it, began the rebellion which it has cost so much money to quell, and that their opponents of the Union party are the persons entitled to complain about the taxes which are the result of Democratic treason,—let us waive these things and inquire a little into another matter connected with the Democracy, the war and the taxes. In these days not a Democrat can be found who does not claim that he supported the war for the Union. Not one can be found who does not urge it as a recommendation to Copperhead Congressmen, and a proof of their loyalty that they voted for supplies for the soldiers and for munitions of war for the Government during the struggle. Even the Copperhead Herald thinks [illegible] certain Congressmen of its party for having supported the war.

Now, if the Democracy were all in favor of the war for the Union—if their representatives voted supplies to carry it on—if the prosecution of the war by the Government was laudable and right—if it is an honor to Democrats to have urged it forward till the rebellion was quelled, is not that party responsible, equally with the Union party, for the expense that was incurred in subduing armed opposition to the authority of the Government of the Union? In 1862 the Democratic party pretended to go in for a more vigorous prosecution of the war, and consequently for a larger expenditure of public money. In 1866 its members all claim that they heartily supported every military war measure, and take great credit to themselves therefor. If all this is true, who, then, by their own showing, is responsible for the debt to a greater extent than the Democracy themselves?

AMENDMENT RATIFIED BY CONGRESS. A Washington dispatch of July 19th, states that the principal event in Congress on that day was the simultaneous movement made in both houses to admit the Tennessee delegation. In the House, Bingham of Ohio received a dispatch from Gov. Brownlow, stating that the battle had been fought and won, and that the Tennessee Legislature had ratified the Constitutional amendment. The following is Brownlow's dispatch to Bingham:

> Battle fought and won. The [illegible] was ratified in the House to-day, by 43 to 11. Two of Johnson's tools refused to vote. Give my compliments to the dead dog at the White House.
> W. G. BROWNLOW.

"Dead dog" is a very vulgar expression, but not more vulgar than the language often used by A. Johnson. The individual who calls himself "tailor," "plebeian boy," "tribune," "Moses," etc., etc., finds that "D. D." may signify something besides "dead duck."

The Walla Walla Statesman says:

> We trust the country may be spared the trial, but should it become necessary we have the assurance that Grant at the head of his [illegible] will drive the traitors from the Capital with quite as little [illegible] as he used in driving armed rebels out of Richmond.

Our sentiments exactly. We are glad to agree with the Statesman for once. But we go a little farther than it. We trust that Grant will very soon drive the traitors from the Capital, as many of them are the same rebels he drove out of Richmond. It will be no trial at all for the country. The country can stand it, and feel all the better when Andy Johnson's rebel associates are driven back to Richmond and Charleston. If Grant does not have a chance to do this job sooner, the Statesman may be assured that he will do it on the 4th of March, 1869.

A JUDGE HELD FOR TREASON—GENERAL SHERIDAN'S ANTI-MEMORIAL ORDER.—The two following items of news were not telegraphed to this coast. Judge Abell is the same man who appears to have been a distinguished abettor of the riots and murders at New Orleans on the 30th of July:

> NEW ORLEANS, July 20.—Judge Abell, of the First District Court of Orleans parish, was arrested this morning on an affidavit by several citizens, accusing him of treason and endangering the liberties of citizens under the Civil Rights bill. Abell was bailed in $500 to appear before the November term of the Circuit Court. The affidavit is based upon the recent charge to the Grand Jury delivered by the accused, to indict those members of the Convention of 1864 who would now reconvene it.
> General Sheridan this morning published his general order forbidding commemoration of Confederate monuments in his Department, and dissolving all organizations for such purpose.

RIGHTEOUS LOYAL INDIGNATION.—The Dayton (O.) Journal says of the late removal of United States Marshal A. C. Sands, a loyal officer in that State:

> "It was indicated to Sands that he could remain in office if he would support the President and the Philadelphia Convention. Sands replied with honest indignation: "I helped organize the Union party; I have done a great deal of work for it; I will eat dirt for no man, and no office will make me do it. The President may remove me as soon as he d—d pleases. I will not help the Copperheads."

FROM MONTANA.

We obtain the following from the Helena Republican of the 28th ult.

UNCLE BEN'S GULCH.

Reports from this recently discovered gulch, and from Hope gulch, still continue favorable. In Uncle Ben's, the claims are being worked from fourteen above discovery to twenty eight above, with the exception of number twenty-two. From number twenty-four, seven pounds, avoirdupois, of gold were recently taken after half a day's run. On Sunday night last, a nugget weighing one hundred and thirty-eight dollars was taken from number twenty-one. We were recently shown by Mr. E. M. Hood, four nuggets taken from number twenty-three, that together weighed between two and three hundred dollars. It requires from four to six feet of stripping to reach the pay gravel, which is from two to three feet deep and from ten to twenty feet in width. A full sluice head of water is being brought in from Hope gulch, upon number seven. It is found impossible to lead it to number ten, as was at first proposed. About the smallest runs heard of are from $250 to $300 to the dozen loads of dirt, which can be taken out in one day by from six to eight men. Several lawsuits concerning claims are in progress. Hope gulch is some three miles long, and on seventeen below discovery the ground is found to prospect fifty cents to the pan. A town is being rapidly built at the juncture of the two gulches, which already contains a dozen houses. Included in those are five stores owned by tradesmen who intend wintering there. The names of the surrounding creeks have been variously altered, and it is now generally agreed to call what was former known as Willow or Dog Creek, Meadow Creek.

THE TROUBLES AT CONFEDERATE GULCH.

Some jumping of claims upon Diamond Bar, Confederate Gulch, has recently taken place, and much ill-feeling has been occasioned thereby. The matter has finally been brought before courts, and will be investigated before Judge Munson at the present term.

FROM DEER LODGE.

The omnipresent X, whom we recently reported as in the Gallatin Valley, has just returned from the other side. He reports that Hugh O'Neil is training for his fight, and making the more preparation pay. Our veracious friend friend says the pugilist has had his horses run off by the Indians, and, therefore, improves his muscle while he pulls his reaping machine by hand.

McCLELLAN GULCH WORKED OUT.

The best claims in this gulch are reported to be worked out. Nevertheless times are quite lively there.

RANCHES ON TEN MILE CREEK.

Ranchmen upon Ten Mile Creek asserts that the grasshoppers have done great mischief—having destroyed the cabbage, tomatoes, turnips, beets, lettuce, and all vegetables in general, except potatoes. The greater portion of this damage was done by the small grasshoppers, early in the spring, before they commenced to fly.

WALKING ON A WAGER.

At 6 o'clock on Thursday morning, at the Gambrinus saloon, William Parish commenced a long walk which he still continues. He attempts to walk one hundred consecutive hours without sitting down, for a wager of fifteen hundred dollars. He has been in training for this occasion during the past four months. In California he walked eighty consecutive hours. His feet have commenced swelling, but he hopes to continue his trip until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when his time will be up.

FROM BENTON.

Capt. Nick Wall and Mr. Broadwater arrived from the head of navigation on Thursday. They made the trip through on horseback in the remarkably quick time of one and a half days. They bring the latest news. The Lyelia and Gallatin are still lying at Benton, are filling up with parties returning to the States. The Marion got aground some thirty miles below, and her passengers were obliged to retrace their way to Benton. She subsequently became a complete wreck. Her furniture and machinery were taken out and hauled to Benton. The hull will prove a total loss, as it cannot be stirred from its present position, and must remain to be torn to pieces, when the ice breaks up next spring. A detachment of the Montana troops from the post at the mouth of the Judith river, were in Benton on Tuesday, looking up deserters. Col. Reeves has returned down the river, leaving his command in charge of a Major, who does not, of course, feel authorized to change the location of the troops. Gen. Meagher has returned to Benton after an unsuccessful [illegible] to the Judith.

LATER.

Parties who left Benton Thursday morning, say that the Lyelia has concluded to leave, August 4th, instead of September 1st, as previously announced. Ladies intending to return to the States, are advised to proceed to Benton as early as possible, in order to secure state rooms. Extra coaches will leave the Benton Stage office until Friday next.

FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Columbian has the following by telegraph, dated August 6th:

GROUSE CREEK.

The Heaple company commenced to clear up their ground since; the Grouse company have run up 25 feet of their bed-rock tunnel, and will have 20 more feet to run. Many claims are doing well on this creek, as also on Stout's Gulch, Conklin's Gulch, Antler Creek, Keithley's Creek, Little Snowshoe Creek, North Fork, Quesnel River, Goose Creek, Spanish Creek, and Swift River.

ROBBERY—ARREST OF CHINAMEN.

On the 3d inst. a house belonging to Mr. James Anderson, Cameronton, was entered by means of a false key, and a desk containing $380 in notes and a gold watch valued at $300 taken therefrom. Six Chinamen had been taken up on suspicion.

WILLIAMS CREEK.

The Cornish company cleaned up on Saturday about 100 ounces. The Cariboo company for the week, 80 ounces; California company, 43 ounces; Last Chance company, 50 ounces. The Bed Rock Drain company are pushing ahead their works. They are now within 125 feet of the Cariboo company's upper shaft, but are hindered by having to blast through hard bed-rock.

CANYON CREEK.

The news from Canyon Creek is very encouraging. Mr. Picht showed us a few ounces of gold raised on that creek by Mr. McLeese. It is tolerably fine, a little water worn and intermixed with quartz.

PEACE RIVER.

From Peace river the news is encouraging. A party of ten persons have been there for some time, trapping during the winter and mining for gold during the summer. They have diggings which pay ten dollars $50 a day to the hand. They are sending down about 400 pounds of furs.

FROM PUGET SOUND.

One of the passengers on the Fideliter during her late trip up the Sound and to the Bellingham Bay coal mines, furnished to the Colonist the following account of the trip:

The steamer left Victoria on Tuesday last and proceeded to Port Angelos, where Collector Wilson came on board, and accompanied the party to the Phoenix coal mine, between Pillow Point and Gulliam Bay. Having casually examined this mine, they started for Nanaimo, where they arrived the next day, at 10 o'clock. Colonel Hayward, Judge Brockway, and Mr. Brodrick went down the Douglas shaft, and remained about an hour below exploring the mine, returning highly gratified. Some 13,000 tons of coal were lying at this mine ready for shipment. In the evening the steamer started for the Bellingham Bay mines, and arrived there about midnight. On Thursday, the party of gentlemen, accompanied by Mrs. Couch and Mrs. Erskine, descended to the mines which run a distance of 4,000 feet under ground, where they remained over two hours. This mine is one of the most extensive on the coast, the strata of coal averaging from 12 to 15 feet in thickness. On Friday the Fideliter headed for Olympia, which she reached early on Saturday morning. The day was spent in visiting the different localities of interest in the city, and in the evening a dinner was prepared on board the Fideliter, at which, among other distinguished gentlemen, were His Excellency Governor Pickering, the Hon. Mr. Garfield, Surveyor General of Washington Territory, and Captain Lawson of the U. S. surveying ship Humboldt. The entertainment passed of most [illegible]. Gov. Pickering expressed his intention of accompanying the party to this city, but did not put in an appearance in the morning; although the steamer waited nearly an hour for him. The Lincoln was at Olympia. Captain Lawson and Collector Wilson came over on the Fideliter. The weather during the trip was fine and the party were much impressed with the grandeur of the scenery around.

FROM THE CHICO ROAD.

DETAILS OF AN INDIAN FIGHT.

The Sacramento Union of the 9th, says:

We learn from C. Creed, who has just returned from the Owyhee mines, the following particulars of an Indian fight which occurred on the 18th of July, to which reference has already been made in the Union: Two men named Drake and Tesler had started from Susanville for White House Station, each driving a four-horse team. When within six miles of Camp McGarry a shot was heard. Tesler, who was ahead, supposed at first that the pistol under his seat had been accidentally discharged. Both men halted, when a second shot was fired which struck Tesler in the left leg. Five Indians were then seen among the bushes, and the fire was kept up by them. Drake assisted Tesler to mount a horse to start for camp to obtain assistance. Before Tesler started Drake was also wounded. When he reached camp, Capt. Hall, with Creed and thirty men, rode as fast as possible to the spot. They there found Drake under his wagon, having received three wounds. One shot had broken and badly shattered his left leg, and two had taken effect in the right leg. The Indians had disappeared. Drake was certain he had killed one Indian and wounded another. On riding a few rods Creed found a dead Indian whose body had rolled down a ravine. He had approached Drake, supposing him to be dead, in time to receive his last shot, which proved fatal. Subsequently the body of another Indian was found at a greater distance from the wagons, he having ran some distance after being wounded by Drake. The stage in which Creed and six other passengers came through was followed by Indians in the night, about five miles, between the Owyhee and Crooked creek, but no attack was made.

FROM UTAH.

The Salt Lake Telegraph of the 2d inst says: L. S. Hemenway, recently from the cotton district in Southern Utah, says the grape and peach crop there bid fair to be very large. The apricots had all disappeared before left. The indications for general fruit-growing there are more favorable than hitherto represented. Although, of the apple species, the bearing is confined to a few seedling trees, Mr. H. does not hesitate to express his confidence that as good apples may be raised in Washington as in Great Salt Lake county. The pear and plum, also, look remarkably thrifty. High winds throw the sands freely about there, but the difficulty is considerably remedied after a year or two of experience in soil-culture.

The Telegraph discredits the rumor of a general Indian outbreak. The same paper rejoices that Congress has adjourned "without hurting Utah very much." It says Utah "still remains somewhere near where she was geographically, and the Mormon people are alive and prospering."

The new daily mail to Provo began running Aug. 1st.

FROM BIG BEND.

The Colonist of the 14th says: A letter of a late date from McCulloch Creek says the population of that Creek is about 120, and that of French Creek about 150; the entire population of the mines being about 350. Tunnels had been run 140 feet, and shafts sunk from 40 to 60 feet on McCulloch Creek, without reaching bed-rock. The lower mile and a half of the creek was considered worthless; higher up, some of the claims were yielding steadily, from $4 to $8 a day to the hand, and others only making grub. A great deal of work had been done on French Creek, but the writer says much gold had not been taken out, and he does not believe that it will turn out much of a mining country.

FROM VICTORIA

By the Fideliter we have files of the Telegraph and and Colonist to the 14th. The Telegraph has the following items:

The Vancouver Coal Co., at Nanaimo, have now nearly 12,000 tons of coal lying at the mouth of the pit ready for shipment. The Company have sold 10,000 tons to the San Francisco Gas Co., and two ships are now on the way from that port to convey it hither.

The Nanaimoites celebrated the success of the Atlantic cable by a public dinner, which passed off well.

The sloop Letitia from Puget Sound yesterday brought over 130 sheep valued at $5 50 each, for Hutchinson & Co.

Tarte was fined $10 in the police court, for pulling a boy's ear who had been giving him insolence.

A man named Wright fell and broke his leg, in Johnson street on Thursday evening, and was carried to the hospital.

Crops generally throughout the Island are excellent this year. Mr. Turgoose, Saanich, informs us his wheat is splendid, and if safely harvested will yield 35 to 40 bushels to the acre. Crops in the northern settlements are also excellent.

U. S. Consul Francis advertises for 20 coal miners at $4 per day.

We find the following in the Colonist:

The Missionary schooner Metlakatlah, from the Metlakatlah Mission on the 10th ult, arrived yesterday morning, bringing a quantity of deer-skins and oil. There is no sickness at the Mission. The Indians along the coast are peaceably inclined. A party of natives have left Metlakatlah to hunt the sea-otter. The crops are in splendid condition and promise great yield. The schooner touched at Fort Rupert and saw the schooner lying in that harbor.

The first number of the resuscitated Nanaimo paper, under the proprietorship of Mr. Joseph McClure, will make its appearance in a few days.

STATE ITEMS.

An acquaintance who has spent the season at Mormon Basin, informs us that the late spring rains in that region have made this not only the best agricultural, but the best mining season that has been known since the settlement of the country.

THE WILLAMETTE VALLEY FARMER.—A great many anecdotes are related of people living in the Willamette valley, who, on account of their limited means, are "put to their trumps" to get along. That the majority of the residents of the interior are poor, in one point of view, is generally well known, but while this is true, the fault is not so much to be attributed to them as to the fact that the encouragement so essential to persons engaged in the pursuits they follow, has not been sufficient, in times past, to give them much hope of reward for their services. We believe that the farmers of the Willamette valley, as a class, are industrious and persevering. In fact they cannot justly be accused of being otherwise, as is attested by their manner of living, some of whom have put up with it for nearly a score of years, in expectation of better days, which may now be said to be just dawning upon them. The changes which have taken place in Oregon for two or three years past, has made a corresponding change for the better, in the condition of the agricultural community, and it will be but a short time before they can successfully cope with the same class of citizens in more favored sections. When we turn back the leaves of the book of time, and look over a few pages of the record as made with reference to our State, we cannot but be astonished at the rapidity with which civilization has advanced upon us. It is still in the remembrance of our inhabitants when Oregon was regarded as entirely too far off, and difficult of access for a person to visit, and think of ever returning to the land of his birth east of the Rocky mountains. The people of the East seemed only to have learned from the accounts of navigators on the Pacific ocean that there was a large river emptying into the Pacific at about the 46th parallel of latitude, and that it was called the Columbia. The country adjacent to that river, and the Willamette valley, was but little better known, except by the Indians and a few white people, many of whom are still residing among us. We need not picture the scenes of to-day, nor give the chain of circumstances which have intervened. It is enough to contemplate the improvements made in Oregon, and the social relations now existing here, to realize how pregnant with importance is everything attending events as they transpire. The time for sacrifices has passed. We need no longer pay tribute to any other section of country at least upon the Pacific coast, and but let our farmers work with diligence, the result is so obvious that none can mistake it, they can easily, by broad and deep the foundations of their own fortunes, and materially assist in their own developments which are fast making Oregon a great country.

THE GOLDEN AGE [illegible].—The following which we clip from a letter to the Bulletin, dated on board the steamer Golden Age, off Manzanillo, July 25th, sounds very much like Col. English who was a passenger, although we would not assert that he was the author: "Broke her shaft!"—the same old story—and here we are paddling down the coast of Colima with one wheel—a lame duck, surely, but not exactly a "dead duck," in the words of the classic [illegible], although we have a lot of the great Dead Duck on board. It is astonishing how many steamers break their shafts now-a-days. "Why don't they make their shafts of iron, so they wouldn't break?" asked a lady of one of the officers after our break down last evening. "Why, bless you, ma'am, they are made of iron," replied the officer, "and as large around as your body." (lady weighs 200). "Then how do they break?" "Vibration, ma'am, vibration—age and vibration will tell, you know; this shaft has been in use 10 years." The allusion to age seemed to call to the mind of the questioner the fact that she had [illegible] past 40 and might break down herself some day; so she reluctantly admitted the vibration theory, but "wished the unlucky vibration in this case had come a little sooner or a little later." The passengers, I think, generally sympathize with that wish, for the present prospect is that we shall be detained at least four days [illegible] Panama, and, what is worse, will have to lie over two days in that vestibule of Gehenna, [illegible] we expect to have to return to "first principles"—that is to say, we shall be [illegible] to the first steamer that ever entered the Golden Gate, the old California, which, since last fall, has been lying at Acapulco as a relief ship, awaiting just such [illegible] as this.....Upon reaching Acapulco, the [illegible] was written: The steamer California, that we expected to find here, left for Panama on the [illegible] day we left San Francisco. After lying here [illegible] and a half waiting for an accident to the [illegible] of the line, she is now off just at the time she was wanted. It has been decided to keep us here until the Constitution [illegible] down. O miserable! What! how hot it is.

A WORD TO VICTORIA.—Our Victoria friends, if they would [illegible] a more liberal policy, which they ought to do under the very [illegible] facilities they have for importing goods direct from Europe, would soon find themselves in a position to command a very large share of the [illegible] trade of Oregon. We know that [illegible] the prices of all imports [illegible] doing [illegible] with Victoria, [illegible] they are [illegible] from acting upon the preference [illegible] of the fact that they are often disappointed in having their orders [illegible]. Victoria merchants have [illegible] are sufficient, one [illegible] them to keep constantly on [illegible] selection can be made by the [illegible] but Oregon [illegible] several [illegible] which have gone from this city have been [illegible] being filled. If there ever was a time when the [illegible] of Victoria should take a deep interest [illegible] with the trade of Oregon, it is [illegible] enjoy with us the abundant facilities for [illegible] offered by the Fidelater, and the [illegible] be prepared to fill the orders he [illegible] with dispatch. There is [illegible] way of preventing a traffic of [illegible] springing into a permanent ex[illegible] the two places, in case the efforts to [illegible] and based upon liberal [illegible] of Victoria is busily engaged in turning [illegible] to the lands, mines, coal fields, and other [illegible] Colony, as well as to put in an [illegible] the farmers of Puget Sound [illegible] the [illegible] with productions, by aid of open [illegible] not neglect to urge an [illegible] in the [illegible]. Unless something of the kind is [illegible] policy adopted, it will be [illegible] to favor them with patronage.

[illegible] The iron steamer Fidelater, Captain [illegible], arrived at 6 o'clock yesterday [illegible] hours from Victoria, having left that port at [illegible] on Tuesday, the 14th. The F[illegible] crossed the [illegible] river bar on the 15th, at 2:30 P. M., [illegible] hours at Astoria, and arrived at Portland as stated. The following were passengers: Judge [illegible], Col Hayward, Wm Kohl & lady, Mrs John P Couch, Mr Street, Mrs Charles & family, Mrs Work & family, Mr [illegible], Mr Worthington, H Everding, Mrs [illegible], Mrs Frinson, Wm L Rand, L Kuhn, Miss [illegible] & sister, Mrs Cline, Rout Harvey, Jessie Simes, [illegible] Worthy & girl, W F [illegible], M Mayer, H Chittle, [illegible], Mr Mat[illegible] and 31 others. Her freight [illegible] as follows: J H T & Co, 4 pkgs [illegible]; Y H, 9; Everding & [illegible], 45; H L Pittock, 4 [illegible]; No Mark, 54 boxes bottles; H N, 13 cases [illegible]; John Hatch, 6 pkgs [illegible]; A P Deling, 3 pkgs; [illegible], 1 case; Smith & Davis, 20 cans paint; Mrs [illegible], 17 pkgs furniture.

PLEASURE [illegible].—Judging from the number of parties made up and traveling throughout various parts of our State the [illegible], the people begin to appreciate what a highly favored locality this is in summer. The Fidelater, from Victoria, yesterday brought to our city a party of ladies and gentlemen who will this morning [illegible] as far up the Columbia river as they can [illegible], and get back to Portland by [illegible]day or Tuesday evening next. Col. Hayward and Judge Brockway, of [illegible], and Mr. Street, of the telegraph company, [illegible] to Oregon, [illegible] with his family, and another [illegible] of Albany, New York, [illegible] from a tour [illegible], and will visit other sections of the [illegible] for the East. Parties of our own citizens [illegible] out for [illegible]ing, exploring, [illegible] visits to Clatsop Plains, Mount Hood, or some of the [illegible] island towns.

CHOICE AND FRESH.—Messrs. [illegible] Jones & Co., corner of [illegible] are still in the market with choice spices, coffee, etc. Having purchased the sole interest of M[illegible] Williams & McBride, in the same business, the above firm now have every needed facility for [illegible] the trade. All orders, large and small are filled alike with [illegible] and dispatch, which is a sure [illegible] for [illegible] popularity and trade, both of which Messrs. Jones & Co. [illegible].

[illegible].—Mr. S. L. Stone, formerly of [illegible], has [illegible] at the north-east corner of Washington and First street, where he will be pleased to meet his old [illegible] and all new ones who may call upon him, being [illegible] of his ability to give them full satisfaction [illegible] in his line. (See advertisement.

ROW.—A [illegible] of small proportions was gotten up on Alder street [illegible]day afternoon, for an enlivenment of [illegible] which just now are very dull with regard to Police [illegible]. The aggressor was a drunken white man, who [illegible] to purloin specie from a Celestial. He was locked up, and the case will be investigated before Justice [illegible] to-day.

[illegible].—Col. Larrabee, who has been spending some time at Owyhee, returned last evening, looking [illegible]. Mr. A. G. Bradford, who has also been at Owyhee, and the Warm Springs, on the Ruckel & [illegible] road, at the base of the Blue mountains, also [illegible] evening.

CHOP HOUSE.—Mr. Wm. Rickards, for many years the [illegible] steward on board the lower Columbia river [illegible], has opened a chop house on First street, one door north of O'Conner's, where he will be ready at all times to serve a plate equal to the palate of any one. See ad[illegible].

[illegible].—St. Joseph's Day School, corner of Third and Oak streets, in this city, under charge of the Sisters of the most holy names of Jesus and Mary, began its [illegible] session yesterday. The term for the ensuing year, at St. Mary's Academy, in the Third Ward, will begin on the 20th, Monday next.

MONEY WANTED.—The committee on river improvements advertise for $10,000, to be loaned under an Ordinance of the Common Council, authorizing a loan of $20,000 for river improvements.

LAND FOR SALE.—Messrs. Labbe Bros., corner of Washington and Second streets, will give information relative to 221 acres of land, situated near St. Louis, Marion county, which is offered for sale by Mrs. E. Dyon.

TREASURE.—There was a heavy shipment of treasure, principally of silver bricks from Owyhee, received at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office in this city, last evening.

FRESH FISH.—The market on Washington street, between First and Second streets, is well supplied with fresh fish from Victoria.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamship Fidelater, will sail for Victoria on Monday next, at 4 o'clock P. M.

Unconditional loyalty to the President was then [during the war] the only test of patriotism admitted or adopted.—Herald.

As long as the war lasted, you denied that as a test of loyalty—what are you prating about now?

FROM IDAHO.

From the Boise Statesman of the 11th, we clip the following:

A BIG NUGGET.

We were shown yesterday by Mr. Packard a nugget worth two hundred and thirty dollars, said to be the largest ever found in the Territory. It was taken out of the claim of Mr. John Sweek some time since, in Alturas county. The claim lays in Quartz Gulch between the celebrated Atlanta and Leesburg ledges. This chunk is valued at about seventeen dollars per ounce. Several smaller nuggets were found in the same claim.

THE NEZ PERCES TREATY—DISSATISFACTION AMONG THE INDIANS.

We have before spoken of the dissatisfaction that exists among the Nez Perces. The facts are these: Many of our readers will remember what is called the "Hale & Rector" treaty made in 1862, by which the Indians were to receive certain annuities. The treaty never having been confirmed, the Indians have become restless and are threatening hostility. Mr. James O'Neill, Agent at Lapwai, has been making known to the Department at Washington the state of affairs, and recommending that something be done immediately. In reply Mr. O'Neil has just received a letter from Senator Nesmith stating that the treaty came up for consideration in the Senate after Holbrook's departure, and there being no one there from Idaho to say one word for it or give one reason why it should be ratified, and consequently it was laid over for further consideration, which is equivalent to its being lost altogether. An Indian war in the North is likely to be the result.

The Statesman of the 9th contains the following:

THE BODY OF DR. MCITEENY FOUND.

The body of Dr. McIteeny was found yesterday and brought home to his bereaved family about three o'clock in the afternoon. He had floated but a few hundred yards below the place where he went into the river, and was found lying in deep, still water. Dr. McIteeny was a much respected member of the community, and occupied a creditable place in his profession. He leaves a wife and four little daughters, the oldest being but seven years of age, to buffet the world in one of its roughest places, to whom we offer this only consolation, that will surely not forget the widow and orphan.

"He who doeth all things well"

The funeral services will take place at the residence of the family, on Idaho street above Fourth, precisely at 10 o'clock A. M., to-day. The services will be conducted by the Reverends Bishop and Hamilton.

CALIFORNIA ITEMS.

The Marysville Appeal says: "The journeyman plasterers of San Francisco have struck for and obtained the eight hour system of labor."

We believe the Monterey Gazette and the San Jose Patriot are the only papers in the State, loyal through the war, that openly endorse the Philadelphia Convention. The editors ought to be appointed postmasters of some country town.

The managers of the State Agricultural Society have made the following appointments: D. J. McGowan, to represent the Society in China; W. P. Blake, to represent the Society at the Paris Exhibition in 1867; J. H. Harbison, for like services in the Atlantic States.

The Sacramento Union says: A disease known as cholera morbus is at the present time prevalent in Grass Valley. It is said the symptoms closely resemble those of real cholera, the patient being attacked with cramps, vomiting and purging.

The Stockton Independent says: The Federal Assessor's returns for the district of San Francisco show that there are 5,923 persons there who own gold watches. This gives one gold watch to every twentieth person, and one to every seventeenth person.

The S. F. Flag says: The people of this city can scarcely have forgotten W. T. Coleman of the Broom Rangers and Dr. O. M. Wozencraft, rebel par excellence. They are among the delegates from this State to the Philadelphia Convention, and were appointed from a crowd of Copperheads from this State who are stopping in New York City. Taken all in all, it will be one of the sweetest Conventions ever assembled on this continent.

GRAEFENBERG
UTERINE CATHOLICON

If faithfully used according to directions will cure every case of Diabetes, and greatly mitigate the troublesome effects caused by a relaxation of the outlet of the bladder. It is a most successful remedy for Gravel and other diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, and for Female Diseases is unequaled. The Catholicon uniformly cures Prolapsus Uteri, Whites, all Irregularities of the Monthly Turns, Suppression, Incontinence of Urine, Bloating and Dropsical Swellings, and all Disease of Pregnancy. The specific action of this medicine is immediate and certain upon the Uterine and Abdominal Muscles and Ligaments; restoring them to as healthy a state as those of childhood and youth, so that patients who have used the Graefenberg Company's Uterine Catholicon cannot sufficiently express their gratitude for the relief afforded. The reason why so many die with Consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. When the system is first attacked with a cough, oppression of the chest, or seated pains in the breast, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will cause the phlegm to raise, heals the irritated parts and restores the system to health. S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day.
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION TRY!

As a means of regulating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air.
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent:
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE

To bid defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore-armed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Billious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
[illegible] that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom
[illegible] or the tomb;
For these though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, billious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea sickness, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To [illegible], in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mould,
To young and middle-aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increase. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public; palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and be on their guard against this practice.

Address to the Union Voters.

The following is the concluding portion of the address of the Union County Convention of San Francisco to the people. It is admirable. Read and heed:

"Fellow-citizens, the party in which we are numbered, if the loyal masses who sustained Abraham Lincoln and his policy, and saved the Union from dismemberment and destruction, can be styled a party, has a bright and noble record, which can never be effaced or sullied. To us belong the trophies of Fort Henry, of Atlanta, of Antietam, of Gettysburg. To us belong the blessed memories of the patriots fallen on the field—the Bakers, the Lyons, the Mansfields, the McPhersons, the Kearneys; and to us the hallowed name of him we loved and cherished, our martyred President. Ours is the proved army of living heroes, whose achievements illustrate the triumph of national arms. Ours is the glory of Freedom, and of the enfranchisement of the human race in all foreign lands. America signifies the loyal masses of the people; America is the great and triumphant Union party. To this party history accredits, and will forever accredit, the fame and the glories of the mighty and successful struggle for Union and Freedom, and the rights of man. Who is not proud to be numbered in this party? Its record will go down to posterity, brighter and brighter as time rolls on, and our children, and our childrens' children will exult in the inheritance.

And of what material is the party composed which arrays itself against us? Of men who vilified and denounced Lincoln, and strained every nerve to thwart his policy: who gave aid and comfort to the enemy from the beginning to the end of the war; who insulted the brave defenders of their country by styling them the minions of a despot; who declared the war a failure, even while Sherman was marching through Georgia; who, claiming the name of Union men, shed tears over the victories of the Union armies. In their ranks are the men who raised the standard of rebellion and trod the sacred ensign of the republic in the dust. Theirs are the diabolical and unpardonable atrocities of Fort Pillow, of Salisbury, of Andersonville. In their ranks are the rebels, whose hands are still red with the blood of our brethren, never to be washed away but in eternity; and Northern allies and abettors, whose hearts are black with treason, never to be forgotten or forgiven.

It is far from our design to stir up unchristian or revengeful feelings. But the immense magnitude of the issues at stake, demands that the truth be told in all its plainness. One of the two parties must rule. The interests of our country and her destinies must fall into the hands of one or the other. In settling the question it is possible to forget the past too hastily. Until the Government is restored to a stable basis, the lessons of the past must be remembered, not forgotten. Under the name of Union, the Union may again be drenched in blood. Shall we drift again into the vortex of secession under that name? Shall we honor treason by restoring it to a place in power? Shall we sacrifice the fruits of the national triumph by bowing our necks to unrepentant traitors? Shall we man the ship of State with the crew of the Alabama? Shall we surrender the helm to the pirates whom we have captured? Shall traitors be suffered to accomplish through the ballot, by the instrumentality of Northern allies, and under profession of love for the Union, what they failed to accomplish through [illegible] and blood? Answer these questions at the ballot box."

THE MIANTONOMAH AT SPITHEAD.—The London Times of July 2d has the following:

This formidable war vessel, which, as the first American turret ship that has visited the shores of Europe, created such an extraordinary degree of interest during her recent visits to the anchorages at Queenstown and Spithead, sailed from the latter roadstead early on Saturday morning for Cherbourg, where she will remain a short time open, as she has been to us, to the admiration and criticism of our good friends and allies across the channel. In their visit to the Miantonomah at Spithead on Friday last the Lords of Admiralty were accompanied by G. V. Fox, the Assistant Secretary of the United States Navy; Capt. Cowper Phipps Coles, R. N.; Capt. [illegible], R. N., C. B., Naval Attache to the British Embassy at Washington; Lord John Hay, M. P.; the Earl of Wilton, Commodore of the Royal Yacht Squadron; Westley Richards, etc., in addition to a number of naval officers and others, mentioned in the Times of yesterday.

The Duke of Somerset, with the Controller and other members of the Admiralty, having been conducted over the ship by Captain [illegible] and minutely inspected her on deck and below, took up a position on [illegible] deck, in company with G. V. Fox, to witness the firing of two shots from the enormous 15-inch smooth bore guns which form her turret armament. The officers and crew of the ship [illegible] positions at general quarters, all hatches were securely battened down, the supply of air below was provided for by setting the [illegible] fans in motion and the ship in every respect prepared for action at sea. These preparations having been made, a visit to the deck below demonstrated clearly enough that, although in certain portions of the [illegible] deck [illegible] slightly oppressive after just leaving the [illegible] of the upper deck, the air was really cool, [illegible] shown by the thermometer ranges, and the ship might be fought through a long summer day's action under the same conditions without [illegible] on board from heat, beyond what would necessarily be found in any ordinary [illegible] ship of war.

The first gun fired was charged with a 35-pound powder cartridge and a sabot live shell, at extreme elevation. The effect was very grand as the vast globe of metal [illegible] from the mouth of the gun with a [illegible] course until it fell at an [illegible] distance of about 3,500 yards from the ship. The second gun was charged with [illegible] powder, a solid shot of 460 pounds, and [illegible] point blank. If the first shot was grand, in exhibiting the flight of a 15 inch shell, this was more interesting [illegible] what we have yet [illegible] rifling our heavy artillery [illegible] of ricochet firing. The immense ball spun along its course over the surface of the [illegible] as truly as the cricketer's ball passes over the greensward toward the wicket. The noise of the explosion, the concussion felt, and the smoke which entered the turrets on the firing of the guns, [illegible] neither more nor less than would be naturally expected in firing 35-pound powder charges.

The working of the guns on board the Miantonomah on Friday was somewhat slow, but this was accounted for by the fact that it was the first time the crews had worked the guns in actual practice. The shutters, or port stoppers, were evidently very much in the way of the men loading the guns; and it certainly appears that, with the quick, available means of turning away from the enemy the port face of the turret when loading, they might be altogether done away with. The revolving of the turret by steam power, and the twisting power given to the ship's hull by the reversed action of the twin screws [illegible] always keep the gun [illegible] the guns were not run out. The gun shutters, under these conditions, appear to be superfluous.

THE WAR NEWS FROM EUROPE.—The New York Evening Post, speaking of the difficulty of getting correct war news [illegible], says:

The want of correct tidings from the fields of war in Germany and Italy is cleverly explained by a correspondent of an English journal, who has been hunting for General [illegible]'s army without finding it, and remarks that it is difficult, indeed almost impossible, for a correspondent to give any really trustworthy account of events in a country where the press says nothing, the country people know nothing, and you are not allowed to go about and see anything for yourself."

POINTED.—The Democratic members of Congress in their address to the people indorsing the Philadelphia Convention, declare that all laws passed by Congress affecting the Southern States while the States are not unconditionally represented, are invalid. The Washoe Eastern Slope has heard of an exactly parallel case of presumption. It says the inmates of the State Prison, at Carson, fully indorse the address, and in a few days will issue a duplicate of this manifesto, protesting against the validity of all laws enacted during the time that they have been deprived of representation.

GOING TO SEA IN A BOWL.—Recently Capt. John M. Hudson and Capt. J. E. Fitch set sail in a very small boat for New York to London. The vessel is a full-rigged ship, four tons burden, five feet beam, and twenty-three feet long. She was named the "Red, White and Blue," and is the smallest craft of the kind ever set afloat on the Atlantic.—Flag.

On her trial trip to Sandy Hook she passed every sailing craft easily. And she is going over the water to beat everything driven by wind, and show herself at the Paris Exposition as the fast little Yankee. They expect to make the passage over in forty days.

STEADMAN AND FULLERTON.—Generals Steadman and Fullerton receive some unmerciful hits from various quarters, among which the following, from a letter written by R. K. Scott, speaking of their visit to Edisto Island, in South Carolina, is decidedly cruel: "The party landed about eleven o'clock in the forenoon, took a lunch, attended a horse race, visited two plantations, and left at four o'clock in the afternoon, satisfied that the Bureau was a failure."

Miscellaneous Items.

The German population of Buffalo, N. Y., numbers about 40,000.

Mr. Ralph Waldo Emerson is revising his recent course of lectures for publication.

New York is building an additional Croton reservoir, whose capacity is to be 12,000,000 gallons. It is to be completed in December, 1867.

Albert D. Richardson is writing an overland and pioneer book for the Hartford firm, which published his "Field, Dungeon and Escape."

General Connor has been appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the territories of Idaho and Montana.

Gen. McClellan is the only foreign officer allowed within the Austrian headquarters. They know that he is perfectly harmless.

Masonry numbers to-day, within its secret pale, more adult males than all the religious organisations on the face of the earth. It is as widespread as humanity, as universal as human language.

"Gail Hamilton," the authoress, whose real name is Abigail F. Dodge, is said to be a sister of General Dodge, recently nominated for Congress in Iowa.

The Craven version of the shackling of Mr. Davis is denied upon authority of the State prisoner himself. This one fact is perhaps the best test of the general character of Dr. Craven's work.

It is calculated that forty thousand soldiers are buried at Corinth, (Miss.,) within a radius of twenty miles. A large proportion perished from sickness during Gen. Halleck's term of command after the battle of Shiloh.

Geo. Peabody has accepted an invitation to visit Zanesville, Ohio, before he returns to Europe. Among his latest deeds is the gift of $50,000 apiece to each of his four nephews in this country. One of them, Mr. Arthur Peabody, was formerly local of the Zanesville Courier.

A novel insurance case has been decided in Missouri. The question arose on the following facts proved: A building is insured against loss by fire. It falls down, being heavily overloaded with merchandise; the fall occasions a fire, which destroys the fallen material. Query—is the insurance company liable? The court decided that the building insured, having fallen, ceased to exist as such, and that it ceased to exist by reason of a peril not insured against, and hence that the company was not liable.

A delegation of ex-Rebel legislators and soldiers will be sent to the Philadelphia Convention. Randall Hunt, one of the "U. S. Senators elect;" Gen. Dick Taylor, of battle notoriety; Judge Eagan, a wealthy planter on Red River; Duncan S. S. Cage, Speaker in the Legislature; Judge Voorhees, Colonel G. A. Williamson, late of the Rebel army; and Messrs. Ray and King are among the delegates at large. Among the District delegates are Mr. Gayarre, Judge Abel, Mr. Lepuyre, F. A. Roeler, Judge Alexander Walker, of the Picayune, Mr. King, of the Times, Colonel Herron, Judge Spofford, Duncan F. Kenner, who was a member of the Confederate Congress; Victor Burthe, Jules Olivier, and others.

THE ARMY OF WEST VIRGINIA.—Colonel D. H. Strother, in closing his report of the Lynchburg expedition and the Shenandoah Valley campaign of 1864, addressed to General Hunter, pays the following well-deserved compliment to the army of West Virginia:

"I have given a brief sketch of military movements and events participated in by the army of West Virginia while under your command, from the 21st of May, 1863, to the 9th of August.

"I have always considered the movement on Lynchburg as one of the boldest and best conducted campaigns of the war. That the motives which actuated it fully justify the hazard incurred, and that the results obtained by very inadequate forces have been fully acknowledged by those who best understood their real value. Lieutenant General Grant handsomely acknowledged that "all had been [illegible] that was possible under the circumstances, and more than could have been hoped for." Jeff. Davis, in his speech to the people of Georgia, after the fall of Atlanta, informs them that "an audacious movement of the enemy up to the very walls of Lynchburg had rendered it necessary that the Government should send a formidable body of troops to cover that vital point, which had been otherwise intended for the relief of Atlanta."

"The vital importance of Lynchburg as a supply depot and proposed place of retreat in case of the abandonment of Richmond was fully appreciated by the rebel authorities. By the United States it was either not fully understood, or the approach deemed too hazardous. When the enemy saw, therefore, their fatal weakness was discovered, and the approaches already [illegible], he was obliged to dispatch a force to protect it at all hazards. Nearly one-third of the flower of Lee's army, under Early, was detached for this purpose.

"Thus the great result was accomplished—Atlanta, unrelieved, fell before the conquering arms of Sherman. Lee's army, thus enfeebled, remained imprisoned in Richmond, and was never afterward able to hazard an active demonstration. Early's presence in the valley of the Shenandoah convinced the Government of the United States of the only effectual policy to be pursued in that quarter. He was confronted by a superior army, attacked and annihilated.

"The subsequent movements of Generals Grant and Sherman brought the war to a full and fortunate conclusion. While rejoicing in the honors accorded to these great soldiers whose fortune it has been to gather in the glorious harvest, I still feel it my duty to claim a modest wreath for the gallant army of West Virginia, which, through so much toil, danger and suffering, assisted in preparing the field for the reapers."

SOMERSAULTED.—The Napa, (Cal) Register, until lately neutral as between the President and Congress, with a decided leaning toward the President, comes out August 4th, with its outside bottom upward with its inside, signifying as we suppose at first glance, a summersault of some sort. This impression was at once confirmed upon glancing down the leading column, where we found the following language:

It pains us to abandon one whom we have once regarded so highly. Our political, like our private friendships, are but few and deliberately formed, and intended to be indissoluble. But although we have voted for Andy Johnson, advocated his election, vindicated his character and his public acts, and apologized for him to the full scope of human charity and endurance, the time has now come when we can no longer approve his course, or apologize for it.

If the report is true, and we can find no reason to doubt it, that he is the originator of the proposed Philadelphia Convention, and if the delegations to that Convention are made up mostly of rebels and copperheads, as the papers all agree, then has Andy Johnson given to the world public and unmistakable notice, that he has turned traitor to the party that elected him and to the principles of the Union platform. It is a strange way he has chosen "to carry out the policy of Abraham Lincoln," by uniting and making common cause with those whom Abraham Lincoln fought to the last hour of his life, and visited with the punishment due to avowed traitors to their country. Does any man suppose that the martyred Lincoln would have called in to aid him such traitors as Vallandigham, Jerry Black (Buchanan's Attorney General and author of the doctrine that a State could not be "coerced,") Fernando Wood and Alexander H. Stevens? Yet these men and hundreds more of the same kidney, are to be delegates to the Johnson-Doolittle convention which is to meet at Philadelphia on the 14th inst. To make the infernal conclave of traitors complete, it is natural to suppose that Jeff. Davis will be invited to quit his retirement in Fortress Monroe and join in the deliberations.

EX-REBEL NOTABLES IN PARIS.—"Malakoff" writes from Paris, June 25th, to the New York Times, as follows: We have here now quite a group of the former great men of the rebellion at home; Gens. Toombs and Beauregard, George Sanders, Jacob Thompson and others. Mr. Toombs now lives in Cuba, where he has a large plantation and plenty of negroes; he is now a rich man, and is traveling for his pleasure. He, as well as Gen. Beauregard, abuses Jeff. Davis without stint. In a personal point of view they certainly had cause to complain of Davis' treatment. Gen. Beauregard is abroad in the interest of the Jackson railroad, and two days ago he was sent for by the Emperor, who received him very cordially and talked with him an hour, principally about the new tactics brought out in the American war. On parting the Emperor requested him to call again, without ceremony, and he would receive him at once, for he wished further conversation with him. The General had some notion of going to Austria, but who knows but that the Emperor may induce him to enter the French army.

THE NEEDLE GUN.—This gun, says a cotemporary, gave the Prussian army such decided superiority that one Prussian corps was able to rout three corps of Austrians. Previous to the outbreak of the war, Bismarck boasted that this weapon would render the Prussian army irresistible. Rifled cannon defeated the Austrian army at Solferino and gave Lombardy to Italy. The needle gun expels the same Power, which is proverbially slow in adopting innovations from Germany. The inventor again confounds the policies of cabinets and decides the fate of empires.

BAD REPORTS FROM TEXAS.—There are bad reports from Texas. A Missouri paper says: A party of emigrants from Texas reached our city yesterday, and from one of them we learned that the cruel spirit of the rebellion was still dominant in the Lone Star State. That in several places the starry banner of the free was replaced by the banner of the "lost cause." The freedmen were treated most brutally by the reconstructed, and numbers were being killed—the merest pretext being sufficient to draw a revolver and fire. Union people were all leaving, as they could not stay with safety, and were sacrificing their stock, crops and lands to do so. Considerable excitement existed along the line between Kansas and Texas, on account of the inhabitants of the former State refusing to let Texas cattle cross, fearing that they will bring with them the Mexican fever. A number have been killed which were driven across the line.

Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form.
